BANNACH

Bannach is a Berlin-based design brand, founded by Moritz Bannach in 2018. Bannach creates high-quality furniture pieces and accessories that are characterized by a geometric, almost sculptural design language and the dynamic use of colors. With its striking and straightforward designs, Bannach moves within the vibrant field of design, architecture and art, producing contemporary pieces with a distinctive design language and an ambitious quality concept.

Design language

The Bannach collection includes furniture items and accessories that not only offer functionality but also assert themselves as expressive statement pieces in any room due to their distinctive design language. The sculptural designs are largely created by founder Moritz Bannach and a selection of international designers. Taking inspiration from the design principles of Bauhaus as well as the formal language of Minimal Art of the 1960s, the purist form of the furniture pieces is derived from their respective function and is characterized by the use of basic geometric shapes with straight lines and edges as well as the renunciation of any ornamentation. Bannach extends this functional-minimalist design approach to include the use of contrasting colors and diverse materials, thus referencing the Milan-based ‚Memphis‘ group and its playful, provocative aesthetic.

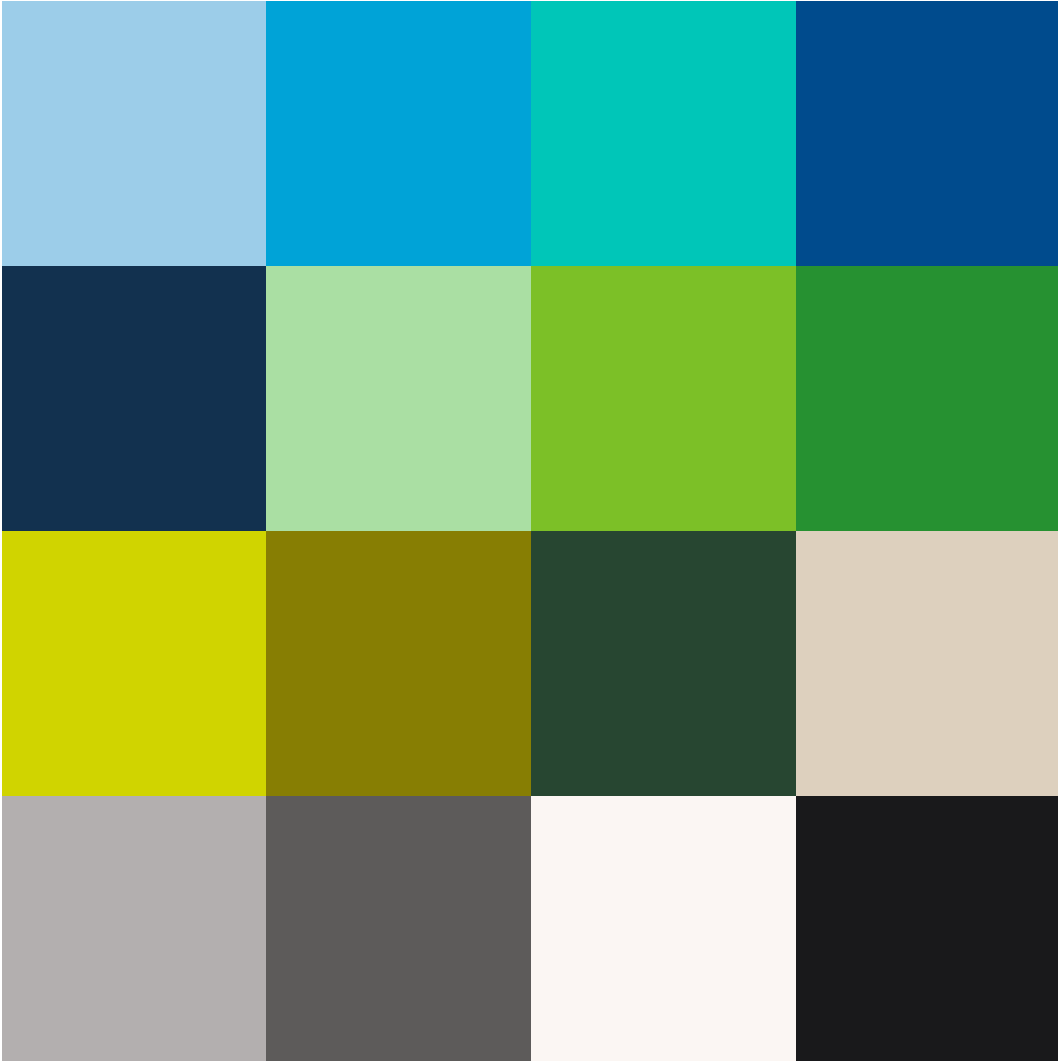

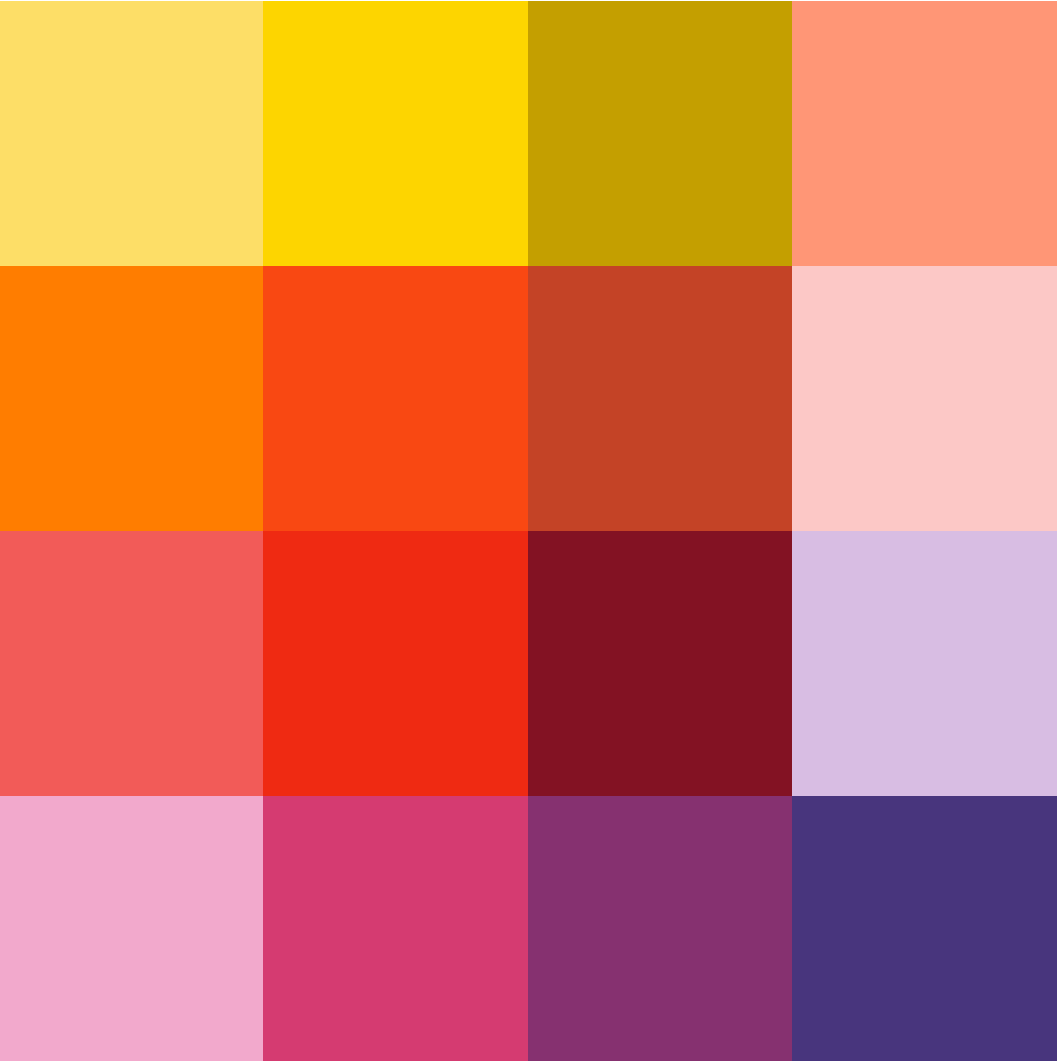

Bannach’s sculptural, well-balanced designs are enlivened by the bold combination of colors and high-quality materials. This fusion of a reduced, purist design language with the expressive use of dynamic colors forms the basis for Bannach’s conceptual orientation and is considered the brand’s distinctness. The use of high-quality materials such as wood and glass as well as a handcrafted production are central to the brand’s aesthetics. Bannach designs items that are not defined by their function as utilitarian objects but rather develop their own spatial presence as expressive design pieces with a high recognition value.

Quality concept

Bannach works closely with selected craft workshops in Germany that meet the high quality standard of the brand and follow a sustainable production method. In doing so, Bannach combines innovative and resource-saving manufacturing techniques with traditional handcraft methods to produce unique and sustainable pieces of furniture.

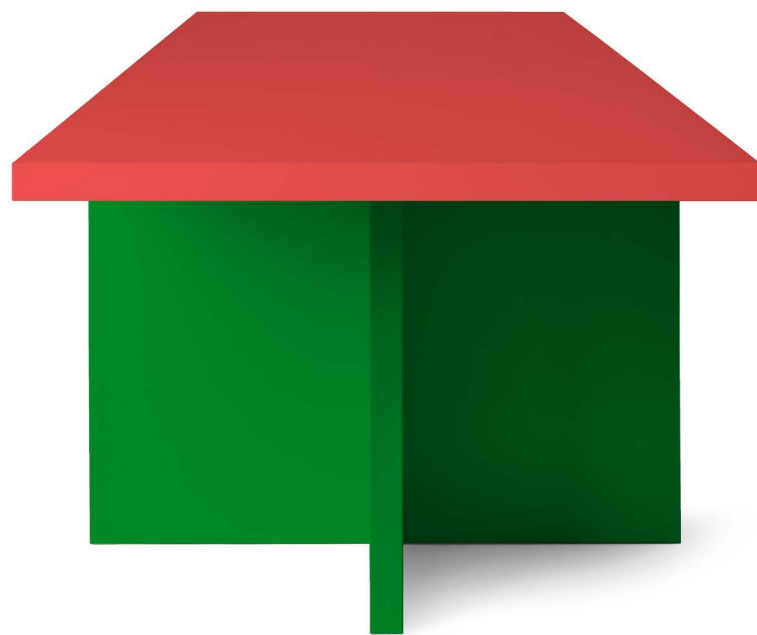

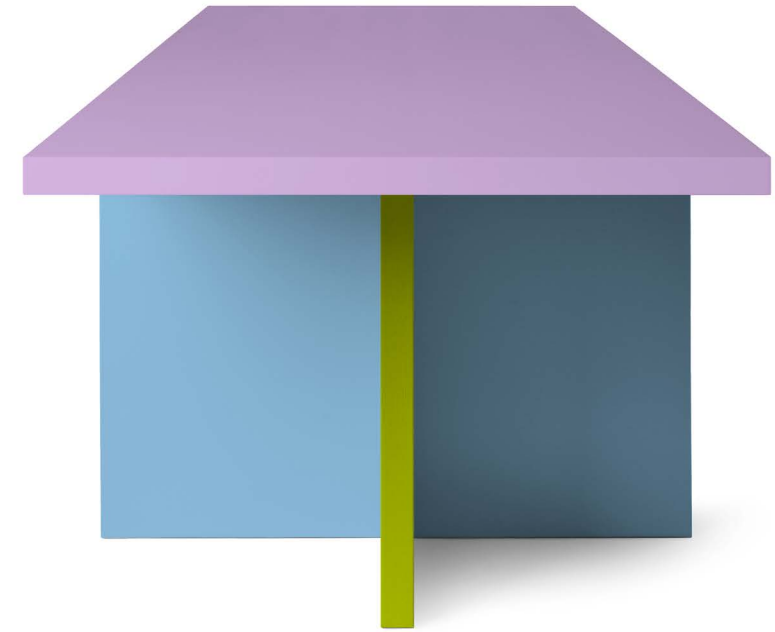

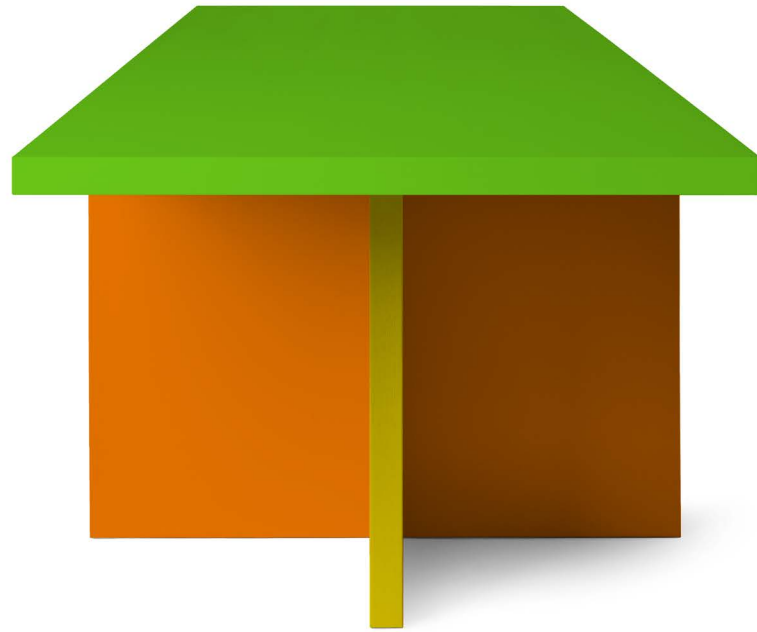

About the founder and designer Moritz Bannach

While studying landscape architecture in Berlin, Moritz Bannach followed his diverse interests and expanded his knowledge in other disciplines such as architecture, design and art history. His integrative approach towards different creative disciplines shapes the design language and values of the brand Bannach. After successfully completing his studies, Moritz Bannach worked for dopo_domani, one of the most renowned retail addresses for high-quality interior design in Berlin. In 2018, he founded his own design brand Bannach. In addition to his role as managing director, many of the designs in the Bannach collection come from him.
