Neve is the Italian name for snow. Similarly to how the snow gently piles up and fills spaces between the branches of a tree or among grasses in a field, the Neve rug, woven with the softest blend of silk, wool and alpaca suri, creates delicate gradients of colors and textures. Snow often highlights shapes and the naked structure of plants creating unexpected yet beautiful textures. The Neve rug finds inspiration and intends to evoke the interaction between snow and landscape and how they beautifully complement each other.
